Will Begin on Tuesday

HITCHCOCK RESIGNS
FROM COMMITTEE

Arrangements Made in Advance
With Well Oiled Machinery and There Was No Apparent Hitch.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)
Washington, Dec. 12.—The Republican national committee today ratified the program which had been arranged in advance for its deliberations.

The national convention to nominate candidates for president and vice president will be held in Chicago, beginning Tuesday, June 18. The vote in favor of Chicago was overwhelming, the tally showing: Chicago 42; Denver, 7; St. Louis, 1; absent, 3.

St. Louis formally withdrew from the contest before the voting began, but Col. Cecil Lyon of Texas insisted on casting his ballot for that city.

The form of the call for delegates to the national convention, including the disposition of the troublesome presidential preference primary question, was still in the hands of a special sub-committee when the national committee recessed.

Charles D. Hilles, secretary to the president, and manager of the Taft forces, was about the committee rooms during the session and was gratified to see the Taft program go through without change.

Col. Harry S. New of Indiana was appointed to head the committee on convention arrangements, as Mr. Hilles had insisted last night in his conference with Postmaster General Hitchcock and others, who were said to be opposed to the Indiana committee.

When Mr. Hitchcock failed to put in an appearance at the committee meeting the suggestion was laughingly made that he had been "steam rolled."

Taft forces also dictated the entire membership of the committee on arrangements, which was increased to seven instead of the usual five, and is composed as follows:

New, Indiana; Vorys, Ohio; Mulvane, Kansas; Murphy, New Jersey; Williams, Oregon; Rosewater, Nebraska; and Duncanson, North Carolina.

Chicago and Denver were the only cities formally to put in a claim for the convention. St. Louis withdrew and Cincinnati, Baltimore and Buffalo were not heard from.

Former Governor Buchtel of Colorado spoke for Denver. Former Representative Landon and Frank W. Upham presented Chicago's invitation, the latter declaring that the people of Chicago would entertain the delegates as royally as ever.

Denver's seven votes were cast by the committeemen from Colorado, West Virginia, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, Hawaii and the Philippines.

St. Louis got the Texas vote. The representatives of North Dakota, Arizona and Nevada were absent; and Chicago got all the rest.

As indicating a phase of the attitude of the committee, its decision to call for the selection of delegates from the District of Columbia at a primary election was of interest.

The committee approved the action of the executive committee in appointing a sub-committee to take in hand the preparation of a call for delegates indicating the method in which they were to be chosen, etc.

name the committee and Chairman Hill said he would announce it later.

"Name it now," came the command from several committeemen.

Chairman Hill called for the committee list from Mr. Louden and officially sanctioned the slate as agreed to last night.

The call for delegates to the convention requires that they shall be selected not earlier than thirty days after the call and not later than thirty days prior to the date set for the convention. This action nullifies the selection of delegates already made in Alabama and will require South Dakota to select a new primary date.

The South Dakota election had been set for June 4.

The majority report on the call for delegates was adopted 42 to 7. Senator Borah was supported in his minority proposition by the committeemen from Colorado, Idaho, Delaware, Nebraska, Oregon, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

There were four absentees—Arizona, Nevada, North Dakota and Vermont—when the vote was taken. All of the other states supported the call as framed by the sub-committee. The national committee adjourned subject to the call of the chairman at 3:15 p. m.

The sub-committee having in charge the call for delegates developed a serious split, Senator Borah leading a hopeless fight to open the primary door to every state in the union and framing a minority report. The sub-committee decided to follow the form of call adopted four years ago.

TODAY IN CONGRESS
SENATE.
In session at 2 p. m.

Senator-elect Vandaman of Mississippi was severely arraigned by Senator Borah of Mississippi, who answered a magazine attack upon him.

HOUSE.
Met at noon.

Sherwood dollar a day pension bill debate continued.

Foreign affairs committee agreed to favorably report Sulzer resolution for abrogation of Russian treaty.

Steel committee heard testimony on Bessemer and Lake Erie stock juggling.

ALBANIA HAS A REVOLUTION.
(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)
London, Dec. 12.—A news agency dispatch from Vienna says that according to official advice received from Cetinje, Montenegro, a dangerous insurrection has broken out in Albania. Twelve thousand men are under arms and an extension of the movement is probable.

FORMER AMBASSADOR TRIPP DIES IN SOUTH DAKOTA
Yankton, S. D., Dec. 12.—Bartlett Tripp, ambassador to Austria during the administration of President Cleveland, died at his home here today of heart failure.

PROHIBITION ZONE WANTED AROUND FORT SHERIDAN
Chicago, Dec. 12.—Mrs. H. C. Keogh, a lecturer for the Anti-Saloon league, of Chicago, left today for Washington, where she will present to President Taft a book in white and gold, bound in white moire satin cover, and with the leaves separated by sheets of white satin. It is not a Christmas present, but the petition of more than 5,500 mothers that the president order created a prohibition zone of five miles radius around the naval training station and Fort Sheridan.

MINERS GO MAD AT BRICEVILLE
Briceville, Tenn., Dec. 12.—Spurred on by last night's discovery of survivors of Saturday's dust blast in the Cross Mountain coal mine, fresh rescue squads went into the cross entries this morning, looking and digging with redoubled energy. Their only reward, however, was the discovery of a corpse-strewn chamber, far back in the mine. At 11 o'clock thirty bodies had been removed.

Stricken mad, probably from fear at their plight, two miners who had been with the party rescued last night, are now dashing wildly in and out of channels in the far recesses of the mine.

BABY KILLED BY BROTHER.
Carrollton, Mo., Dec. 12.—The 2-year-old daughter of Thomas Collins, a farmer living near here, was accidentally shot and killed by her 9-year-old brother at the Collins home today. The children were playing with a gun left in a corner by their father, who had just returned from a hunt.

S. W. McClure, national secretary, came in from Gooding, Idaho, this morning. He will be followed by Frank H. Gooding, former governor of Idaho, tomorrow, while Senator Borah of Idaho and Frank G. Hagenbath are expected Thursday morning.

The first shipment of sheep arrived Monday afternoon from East Shoreham, Vermont; E. N. Hissell of East Shoreham has a flock of ten prize winning merinos. A flock of ten Dartmoors, the only representatives of this breed in the United States or Canada will arrive late Tuesday evening. These are the property of the University of Wyoming, which recently purchased them in Forest, Ontario.

The Wyoming delegation of sheep men will arrive Thursday morning from Cheyenne, where the state convention is being held. A special train has been chartered for the 300 or more delegates.

The Idaho delegation will also come in a special train. This representation will propose some radical changes in the present constitution. Idaho also casts covetous eyes on either the presidency or the secretaryship and threatens to dislodge some one from his present position.

More than 700 sheep will be on exhibition at the sheep show, making it the largest affair of the kind ever held in the west.

There were several women also, among them Mrs. Belle Lavin and Mrs. D. H. Ingersoll, lodging house keepers of San Francisco, at whose houses McNamara, Schmidt and Caplan lived for short periods; Mrs. Emily Stuperich, wife of a hotel keeper, and a number of waitresses in San Francisco and Oakland cafes and restaurants.

Oscar Lawler and Detective McLaughlin entered the grand jury chamber carrying suit cases which were said to have been among the baggage of J. B. McNamara, "Schmidt" and Caplan, seized at the Ferry building in San Francisco.

Republicans Assert Ralph
Cameron Will Go to Senate
but Democrats Claim They Will Have Both Togas.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)
Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 12.—Arizona, the last of the territories, assumed the full sovereignty of a state today by electing its own governor and acquiring for the first time two United States senators and one congressman.

In all the thirteen counties of the new state voting today was enthusiastic but light in comparison to the total population for the reason that by the enabling act under which Arizona comes into the union the suffrage was restricted to the voters whose names were on the great register of 1908. This cuts off thousands of people who have settled in the new state during the last three years.

Interest in the election centered in the vigorous contest between Republicans and Democrats for control of the new state by the election of the governor and the congressional delegation.

Republicans have had the stimulus of a progressive platform, which it was hoped would overcome the normal Democratic majority, while their opponents were enthusiastically receding the hopes of leaders at Washington that "Arizona Democrats would vote straight and add two more senators to the Democratic side in the senate."

The Democrats hope to elect both Mark Smith and Henry Ashhurst as senators, though the Republicans declared today that Ralph Cameron, Republican delegate in congress, was practically sure of winning one of the togas.

Campaign managers for George W. P. Hunt of Globe, former president of the constitutional convention and Democratic candidate for governor, declared he had a long lead over Judge Edward Wells of Prescott, the Republican nominee.

The judiciary recall, a feature of the constitution framed by the Democratic convention, will be eliminated at the election today, President Taft in consenting to the admission of Arizona having made that a condition prerequisite to statehood. It is said by leaders of both sides, however, that just as soon as Arizona is safely installed in the sisterhood of states steps will be taken to put the recall of judges back into the constitution.

COLLIE HAIRS USED TO COUNTERFEIT BILLS
Chicago, Dec. 12.—The fine, silky hairs of a collie dog were used in counterfeiting the threaded paper of government bills by Albert Leon, who with Rudolph Swanson and Fred Marneck were arrested several weeks ago. They had previously been indicted for counterfeiting.

The insertion of the silk fiber in Leon's bank notes proved a puzzle even for the secret service men, who followed them hundreds of miles, arrested them and gained evidence which they said was sufficient to convict. An analysis of the notes by government experts proved the statement true.

"The insertion of the silk fiber proved a long time," said Leon. "We first stole a dog belonging to a man with whom we boarded in Los Angeles. We killed the dog and took the finest hairs and worked them into the paper until it could not be told from the government note paper."

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)
Delhi, India, Dec. 12.—King George V and Queen Mary were today proclaimed emperor and empress of India. The culminating act of the English monarch's accession to the throne of his vast Indian dominions took place amid a scene which for richness of color and magnificence of decorations probably never has been surpassed in modern times.

The crowning was followed by an act of generosity on the king-emperor's part, of which a slight hint had already been given. The victor proclaimed that the king-emperor was to donate a large sum of money to promote popular education and that further handsome gifts would be made.

The huge amphitheater which had been erected in the durbar camp was thronged from an early hour. The bright colors and sparkling gems of the many Indian princes and the smart uniforms of the soldiers contrasted strongly with the white dresses of the European women and the sober garb of civilian officials.

The great feudatory princes and rulers of India with the leading British officials occupied seats of honor in the pavilion. Screened from the gaze of the curious by a lattice frame-work, a number of Maharajahs and other Indian women of high rank occupied two sections of the front gallery.

The interval of waiting was beguiled by the playing of military music. The soldiers played a large part in the durbar and a guard of honor composed of 100 picked men was drawn up before the central pavilion. Troops of every arm surrounded the arena in a compact mass and lines of soldiers extended along the route of the royal approach. Cheers heralded the arrival of a band of veterans, the survivors of the armies which had made the present durbar possible.

Almost immediately the viceregal procession came into view. Escorting by a brilliantly uniformed native body-guard, the viceroy and Lady Hardinge sat in their state carriage drawn by blooded horses, with outriders uniformed in scarlet and gold.

Then the booming of an imperial salute announced the approach of the emperor and empress. The royal carriage drawn by four magnificent horses was almost hidden from view by the gaily caparisoned escort. The emperor wore a robe of imperial purple, a surcoat of purple with white satin breeches and silk stockings. He was decked with collars of the Order of the Garter and the Star of India, and also with the star of the latter order.

The imperial crown consisted of a band of diamonds studded with large emeralds and sapphires with rubies in the center and a cap of purple velvet turned up with ermine.

The queen-empress' dress was of white satin embroidered with a design of roses, thistles and shamrocks, with a border of lotus flowers. The star of India was embroidered on the front of her dress. Her majesty's imperial robe was of pure velvet trimmed with ermine and with a border of gold braid. She wore the orders of the garter and the star of India. Her ornaments were a diamond and emerald necklace and brooches.

Carriage after carriage with members of the imperial staff followed the royal pair. The guards presented arms and the bands burst into the royal anthem.

The combined processions proceeded slowly to the great central tent where their majesties stood to receive the homage and congratulations of the governors, ruling princes and other representatives of British India. When this gorgeously uniformed line had filed past, the imperial and viceregal parties appeared before the vast assemblage in the durbar amphitheater.

When they took their seats on the crimson dais the strains of the national anthem were heard and the people rose and stood in profound silence.

It was a pretty group around the four thrones of the emperor, the empress, and viceroy and the vicereine at the back of the imperial and viceregal seats and the imperial and viceregal couples, composed entirely of youthful princes and sons of princely families formed in rank.

The formal ceremony then was performed, the sovereigns being duly proclaimed emperor and empress of India.
